

Luke Jung

Profile

I'm a graphic designer specializing in visual communication, with 10+ years of experience spanning branding, editorial, packaging, education, and UI/UX across Toronto and Seoul.

My path runs from traditional craft to digital — trained first in ceramic art (Kyung Hee University), then graphic design (OCAD University) — so I see beyond pixels to hand-crafted experiences.

I thrive under pressure, know when to push and when to stop, and build long-lasting impressions through calm, considered design. I'm currently designing for kindergartens in South Korea, leading projects that help kids, parents, and teachers manage their daily routines and schedules; I combine strategy and creative direction to make school enjoyable — the same end-to-end brand thinking I bring to every client project.

Currently open to full-time opportunities in Toronto.
